

	5	4	3	2	1
Categories and Score Meaning	Outstanding! (Advanced)	Wow! (Proficient)	So-So (Basic)	Needs Improvement (Struggling)	Oops (Below Basic)
Monday	You participated very well in the class discussion, asked questions that were engaging and thought provoking, and were able to clarify topics of conversation for others.	You participated well in the discussion, asked questions that were relevant and important, and were able to clarify some answers for others.	You participated in the discussion, asked questions, and tried to help answer someone else's question.	You participated in the discussion minimally, asked minimal questions, and did not try to help answer someone else's question.	You did not participate in the whole class discussion and did not reschedule with Mrs. Smith for a makeup.
Tuesday	Your response is thorough, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar the entire time, and teacher feedback was clearly looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is well-detailed and goes above and beyond the basics.	Your response is done well, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar most of the time, and teacher feedback was looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is detailed in the right places.	Your response is complete, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar, and was edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable).	Your response is incomplete, addresses some of the questions asked, does not use proper mechanics or grammar most of the time, and was not edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable) because the response is still missing important information.	Your response was not written as a fluid thought process, it was messy or incomplete, uses poor spelling, grammar, and/or punctuation, and the teacher feedback was not considered in the revisions because important information is still clearly missing.
Wednesday	Your response is thorough, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar the entire time, and teacher feedback was clearly looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is well-detailed and goes above and beyond the basics.	Your response is done well, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar most of the time, and teacher feedback was looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is detailed in the right places.	Your response is complete, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar, and was edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable).	Your response is incomplete, addresses some of the questions asked, does not use proper mechanics or grammar most of the time, and was not edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable) because the response is still missing important information.	Your response was not written as a fluid thought process, it was messy or incomplete, uses poor spelling, grammar, and/or punctuation, and the teacher feedback was not considered in the revisions because important information is still clearly missing.
Thursday	Your response is thorough, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar the entire time, and teacher feedback was clearly looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is well-detailed and goes above and beyond the basics.	Your response is done well, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar most of the time, and teacher feedback was looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is detailed in the right places.	Your response is complete, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar, and was edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable).	Your response is incomplete, addresses some of the questions asked, does not use proper mechanics or grammar most of the time, and was not edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable) because the response is still missing important information.	Your response was not written as a fluid thought process, it was messy or incomplete, uses poor spelling, grammar, and/or punctuation, and the teacher feedback was not considered in the revisions because important information is still clearly missing.

Friday	Your response is thorough, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar the entire time, and teacher feedback was clearly looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is well-detailed and goes above and beyond the basics.	Your response is done well, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar most of the time, and teacher feedback was looked at before revisions were made (if applicable) because the final product is detailed in the right places.	Your response is complete, addresses all the questions asked, uses proper mechanics and grammar, and was edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable).	Your response is incomplete, addresses some of the questions asked, does not use proper mechanics or grammar most of the time, and was not edited based on teacher feedback (if applicable) because the response is still missing important information.	Your response was not written as a fluid thought process, it was messy or incomplete, uses poor spelling, grammar, and/or punctuation, and the teacher feedback was not considered in the revisions because important information is still clearly missing.
----------------------	--	--	---	---	--